Indonesia: Island-hopping at Bali and Lombok

Temples, sawa's, beaches and adventure in 1 trip!

About this tour

At a pleasant pace you travel Bali and Lombok by car with driver. You stay in the green heart of Bali and have time to snorkel at the north coast of the island. From Bali, you take the fastboat to the Gili Islands. Enjoy a few days of relaxation on an island without motorised traffic. On Lombok, you stay on the south flanks of the Rinjani volcano, a beautiful green area. You will end your trip on Gili Asahan, a small paradise on the southwest side of Lombok.

What will you do

- The famous highlights of Bali
- Cycling in the area of Ubud
- Snorkelling at national park West Bali and the Gili islands
- Visit the waterfalls of Munduk and Sekumpul
- Put your feet in the white sand of Gili Air

Where

Bali and Lombok are the 2 most visited islands by tourists. Bali is of course number one and is world famous for its sawas and the large number of Hindu temples. Religious ceremonies are colourful and you will always find one during your trip. Between Bali and Lombok, there are three well-known Gili Islands; Trawangan, Meno and Air. The islands are often combined in a trip with Bali and Lombok. A perfect and very relaxing stopover. Lombok is often called the little sister of Bali. A large part of the island is occupied by the Rinjani volcano. On the flanks of the volcano, you will find beautiful green sawas. On the west and south side of Lombok, you have other, lesser known Gili Islands. Some are real gems. Gili Asahan is one of them.

Fun fact:

Indonesia: 17,000 islands, of which only 6,000 are inhabited, spread over three different time zones and as many as 700 different languages are spoken.

Travel Tips:

Indonesia has a wide range of cultures. Live for a few days with the medicine men on the Mentawai islands. Or celebrate a traditional funeral in Toraja, on the island of Sulawesi.
